

Contact Information:

I.W.A. PUBLISHING SERVICES

Zorina Exie J. Frey
examinerzjerome@gmail.com
zorinafrey.com
574-210-5233

Award-Winning Artist Stephen Halpert
as August's Literary Arts Open Mic Featured Artist
at Tatnuck Bookseller

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WESTBOROUGH, MA –The Literary Arts Open Mic is proud to showcase artist, writer, and Emerson College alumni Stephen Halpert as the Featured Artist for August 28 from 6:30 – 7:30 p.m. at Tatnuck Bookseller, Gift Gallery & Café, 18 Lyman Street in the Westborough Shopping Center on Route 9.

Halpert has won awards from the Blackstone Valley Artist Association's Spring and Fall shows and the Grafton Fine Arts & Music Festival. In 2009, he was juried into the Arts Worcester Biennial Exhibit and in 2010 into Goddard Houses' In And Out of the Box. He also facilitates collage workshops and private classes encouraging artists of all ages to develop and express their own unique vision.

Halpert has also authored a number of books, articles and columns on American literary, photographic and social history; and rock music and pop culture. Today he writes a weekly humor column, American Scene published on line and in The Grafton News.

To participate in the Literary Arts Open Mic event, contact Zorina Frey at examinerzjerome@gmail.com.

The purpose of the Literary Arts Open Mic is to promote self-confidence by encouraging people to take pride in their identity while promoting a positive attitude while remaining diligent in self-improvement through the art of literature. This event also serves as a great opportunity to network and learn about getting published.

###